As I write this, the 1984 Salesian has already been completed. This is the last page to be sent off to the printers, and it gives me the opportunity to relate what experience has been for me and 29 other seniors who worked on the Publications Staff this year.

Only those people who have worked together on a long and difficult project know what it is that they have done. In particular, Laura Powell (Production Editor), Don McGraw (Business Manager), and our Publisher, Mr. Kevin Dockrell, have been hard at work on this book since August, 1983. Along with those seniors whose photos appear on pages 34 and 35, we have published this 29th edition of the Salesian. I'm sure that many of our fellow students and some of our teachers must have thought that we were crazy to give up our afternoons and other leisure time in the making of a high school yearbook, and to some extent, they are right. None of us, myself included, ever imagined that the job would be as complex as it has been. For me at least, it's been the most demanding task I've ever undertaken. The demands on our time are only the most obvious. There is also an almost constant preoccupation with the hundreds of little details that must be done; I can remember being concerned about the spelling of names, the details of the football team's season, the need for more and better photographs. I spent a lot of time making sure that messages got delivered, and checking on the progress of the various sections.

We all expended a lot of energy, mostly mental. That in itself is tiring enough, but the pressures of upcoming deadlines only added to the frustration that we all felt at least once during the year. Still, it was more than worth it. It's a terrific feeling when a deadline has been completed and mailed off on time. After this year, I can say that there is a great sense of purpose in publishing, and everyone who worked on this book shares in that feeling.

For everyone who has asked us this year, "What's involved in making the Salesian," it involves making a lot of decisions, and it takes a lot of work from a lot of people. First, it takes money. Don and our Business Staff did a superb job of organizing and carrying out our fundraising drive. We raised the money that we needed, and the whole process was smoother than we had any right to expect.

After the Drive was completed, we began to make the hard decisions. We designed the cover, chose our type style, budgeted our space, and planned our deadlines. Because we receive our yearbook in the spring (when we can have time to have it signed, and when memories are still fresh in our minds), we cannot include events that occur after our final deadline, February 1. Therefore, Talent Show, Junior/Senior, Literary Competition, all our spring sports, and other second semester activities from this year will appear in the 1985 Salesian.

The single most difficult decision was choosing a theme and making it happen. It had to be an idea that lent itself to photographs and narrative, no small feat in itself. More importantly, for Mt. de Sales the theme has to be consistent with our past and our present, and it has to anticipate our future. It has to be an accurate reflection of who we are.

When we came back to school in August, 1983, the physical changes that had taken place on the campus inspired us to choose changes as our theme. Change was all around us, and it has formed an important part of the fabric of our high school years. Throughout this book, the grey pages are our theme pages, speaking of those things which have happened around us, chronicling the changes that we, as a community, have experienced.

It is fitting that this particular theme appears in the Salesian for 1984. George Orwell's novel 1984 foresaw a harrowing time when there would be no change; a time when everything was institutionalized, a time when change was the enemy of a dead and static society. If we have learned anything, it is that change is one of the few constants in our lives. Whether it is a sudden and wrenching change, or a subtle and underspoken one, we have learned to recognize it for what it is: the one thing of which we can be certain.

Being the Managing Editor of this project has left me with a feeling of accomplishment, a feeling that we have made something which will last. I hope that reading it means as much to you as its creation has meant to us.

"In Him we live and move and have our being . . ."

During the '83-'84 school year, our spiritual activities were increased and strengthened in many ways.

Each of the classes participated in two mini-retreats at St. Joseph's Church. The activities included a shared lunch, small-group discussions, music and prayer, fellowship and reflection. These mini-retreats were planned by each class with the assistance of their teachers and moderators.

The faculty had two mini-retreats of their own: they, too had the chance to be together for spiritual renewal and discovery.

In December, we observed Foundation Day, the anniversary of the founding of the Sisters of Mercy. Sister Regina Werntz, R. S. M. came to Mt. de Sales, and along with the other Sisters in the MDS family, made a presentation highlighting the ways in which the Sisters have served the people of Macon and the United States.

On a Saturday in late January, fifteen sophomores went on a day-long retreat to Lake Lanier.

Our spiritual activities continue to occupy a prominent and important part in our activities at MDS.

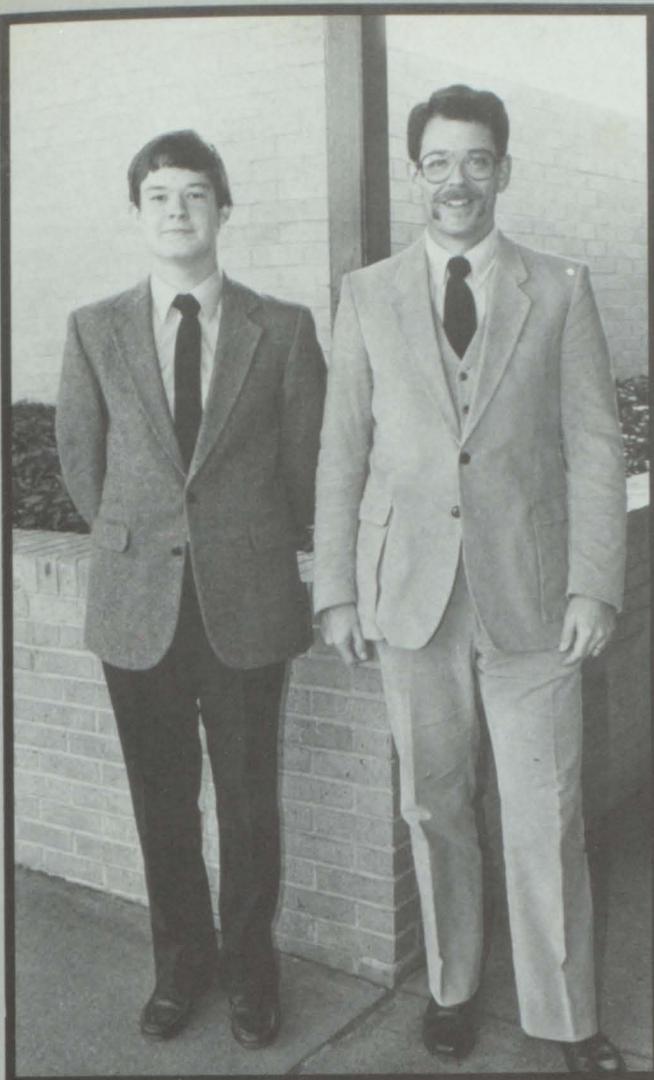

Sister Sharon (left) and Mrs. Garvin, along with the other members of the faculty, plan our religious activities.

Juniors reflect during the candlelight prayer service at their October mini-retreat.

Senior Superlatives

These seniors were chosen to represent MDS in the city-wide Senior-of-the-Month competition (front to rear): Amy Shiflett (April), Donald King (October), Peggy Riley (November), Matt Connelly (March), Warren Griffin (January). Not pictured: Don McGraw (February).

Mt. de Sales had five National Merit Semifinalists in the Class of '84, more than we've ever had before. Pictured with their Guidance Counselor, Mr. Jim Ray (at right) are (left to right): Erin Coughlin, Angi Duff, Donald King, Russell Jelks, and Don McGraw.

Portrait Of A Winner: Mike Garvin

It is not often that we encounter greatness, and even more rare when that greatness is wedded to deep and lasting commitment. Let us now pause to consider a man who embodies and displays both qualities: Mike Garvin.

Coach Garvin began his career at Willingham High School in 1960, and coached there with Billy Henderson, Lloyd Bohannon, and other well-known Georgia high school football coaches until 1966. In 1967, he became a Head Coach for the first time, when he came to Mt. de Sales. Sister Lourdes Sheehan, R. S. M., who was the MDS principal at the time, says that one of the two most important people she ever hired was Mike Garvin. Certainly his record of achievement validates her claim.

In his 17 years as the Cavaliers' head coach, Mt. de Sales has won 8 region championships, and 3 state championships in football. During the 1970's, MDS had the 8th best winning percentage among all high schools in the state of Georgia, regardless of size. In 1973, Coach Garvin was selected by the Atlanta Touchdown Club as its Coach of the Year; he has been selected Coach of the Year by his coaching peers and by the local media on numerous occasions.

Ironically, Mike Garvin's own playing career was ended by an injury while he was still in high school. He first coached while a student at Mercer. In those days, the grammar schools in Macon competed against each other; they even had their own championship game called "The Pony Bowl." In those early years of his career, Coach Garvin's teams at Alexander IV won the Pony Bowl at least twice. Mike Garvin's own statistician (his wife, Carolyn) can't remember for sure, but she thinks that the Alexander IV team may have won three Pony bowls. As we all know, it was the first of many first-place finishes.

In addition to football, Coach Garvin has coached boys' and girls' basketball, boys' and girls' track, wrestling, baseball, tennis and golf. About the only sports he hasn't coached are soccer, swimming, ice hockey and polo!

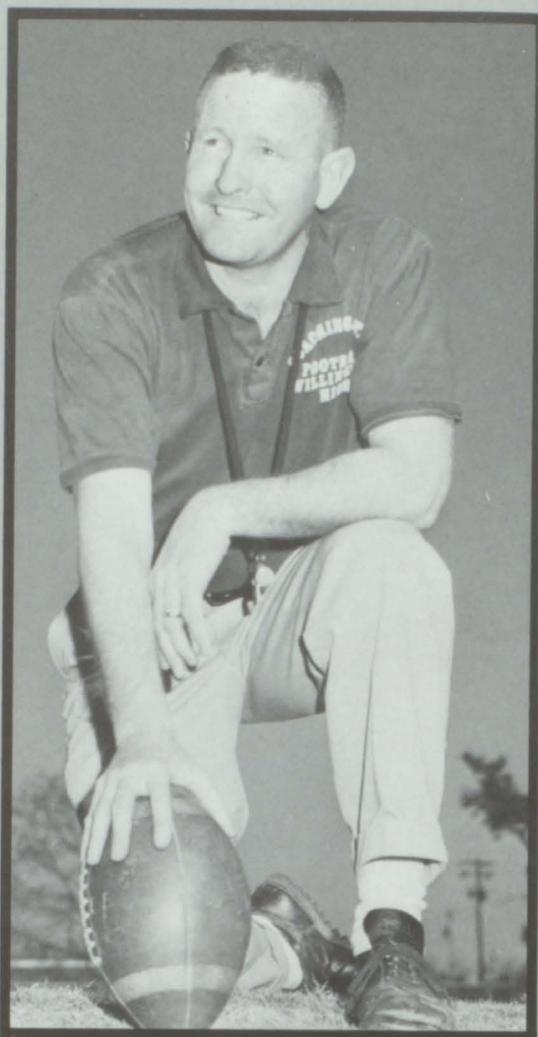

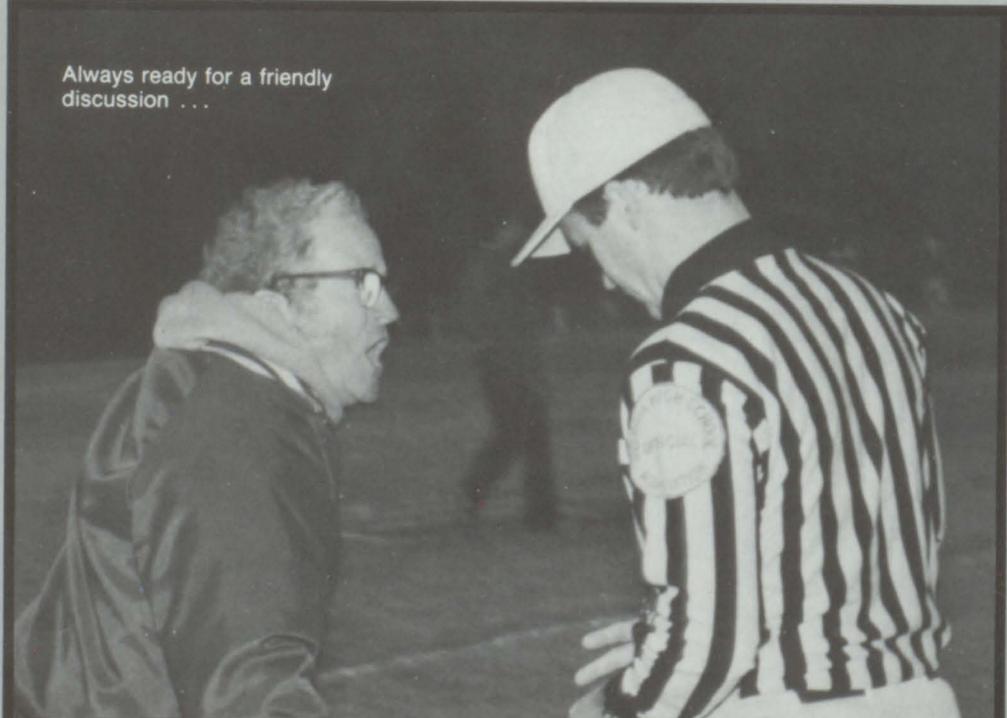

He is absolutely dedicated to winning; more than that, Coach Garvin is a master at getting each player to compete at his or her highest level. When an athlete has achieved that level of personal excellence, Coach Garvin is likely to say, "Ain't it fun!"

In spite of his coaching achievements, we at MDS know him first and foremost as an educator. His keen mind and passion for the study of mathematics are obvious to all. He has led his students into the computer age with skill and confidence; his excellence in the classroom is legendary.

Mike Garvin is known as a man of intelligence, compassion, and dedication; many have been blessed by his presence over the years.

He brings out the best in all of us.

The rookie coach in 1960.

Teacher, coach, rainwear designer!

Each of these people will tell you that the other is their better half.

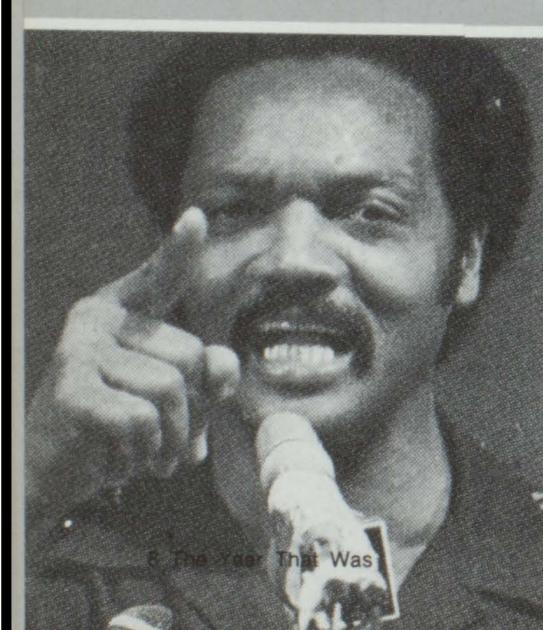

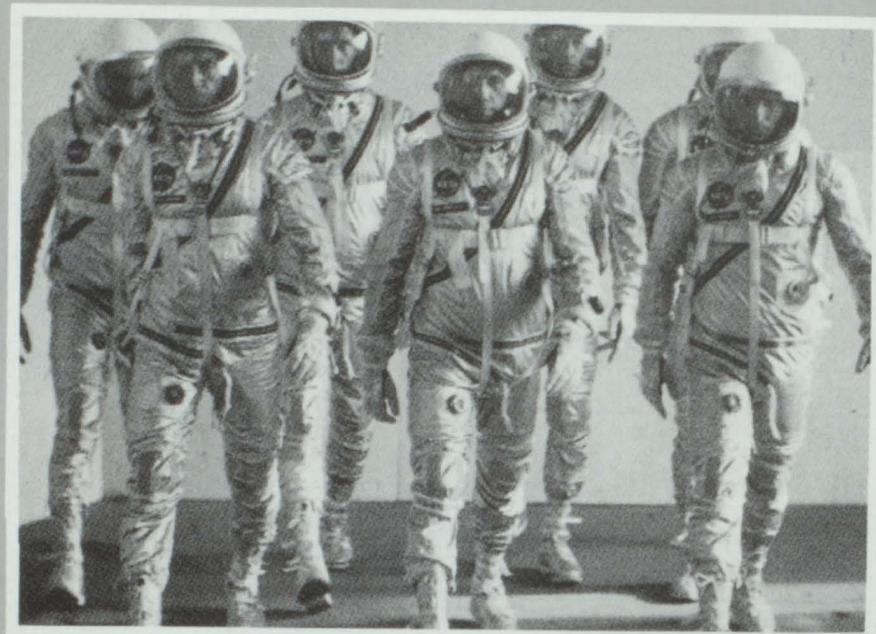

This photograph, which originally appeared in The Macon Telegraph, shows Coach Garvin with the symbols of the 1973 State Championship. After 17 years, his career record stands at 130 - 50 - 1.

I have fought the good fight;
I have finished the race;
I have kept the faith.

1983-84

It was a year like many others. It was full of changes; some of them gentle and expected, others rude and harsh. In each of them we saw America and we saw the world, and underneath it all, we saw ourselves.

When we entered our senior year at Mt. de Sales, the campus had been transformed, there were more computers everywhere, and there were two new Sisters of Mercy to teach us.

We celebrated our senior year to the music of Michael Jackson's Thriller and Synchronicity, by the Police. In the movie theaters we watched Jennifer Beals blaze her way through Flashdance; the movie inspired a new craze (break dancing) and a new fashion style (the torn-sweatshirt look). Return of the Jedi gave us a marvelous new villain, Jabba the Hutt, and Terms of Endearment left us with a new appreciation of love. During the summer of '83 we re-lived the adventures of the early astronauts, and agreed that they had The Right Stuff.

On the small screen, we joined 100 million of our fellow citizens to witness the destruction of nuclear war, and the horror that followed on The Day After. PBS gave us our first comprehensive look at events that happened in our childhood in Vietnam: A Television History. We shared the bittersweet emotion of The Thorn Birds, and every Thursday night we said Cheers and then got Hill Street Blues.

In 1984, President Ronald Reagan entered the final year of his first term in office with the economy booming, and American troops, for the first time in a decade, on foreign soil. We grieved at the Marine massacre in Beirut, and cheered our country when the Rangers rescued American medical students on the island of Grenada. The stain of Marxism spread further into our hemisphere, as the U. S. kept up the pressure on El Salvador and Nicaragua. We were shocked at the sheer brutality of the Soviet Union when they shot down Korean Air Lines Flight 007. It reminded us that the world was still an uncertain place, full of violent changes, too.

As always, there were new personalities that burst into our lives: Mr. T., Vanessa Williams (the first black Miss America); Sally Ride (the first woman astronaut), Reverend Jesse Jackson, and the Cabbage Patch Dolls.

There were those who faded from the scene, too. Menachem Begin retired as Prime Minister of Israel. Yasser Arafat's iron-clad control of the PLO was finally broken. We said goodbye to Tennessee Williams, Karen Carpenter, and James Watt, who shot himself in the foot once too often. Herschel Walker left the University of Georgia for the New Jersey Meadowlands and a million dollar deal. Nobody called him a carpetbagger.

It was a year in which we commemorated the sublime (the 20th anniversary of the assassination of John F. Kennedy), and the joyful (the 20th anniversary of the Beatles' first appearance on American television).

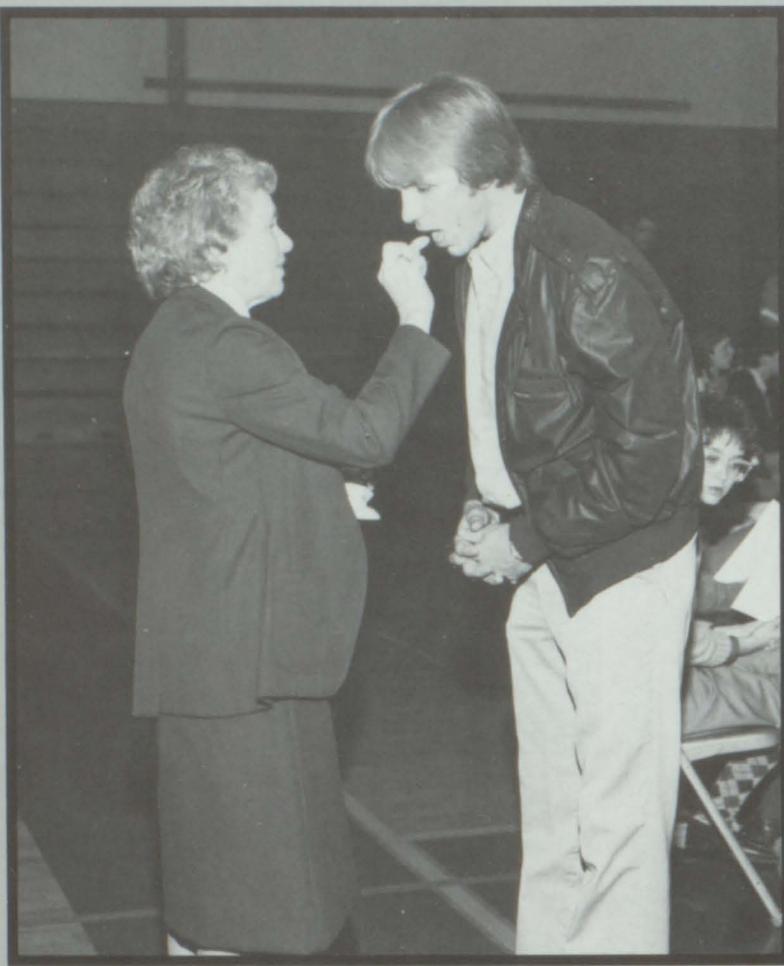

It was a year like many others, and unlike any other; it was uniquely ours, and we won't soon forget it.

Dear Graduating Seniors of the Class of '84,

You are the right people at the right time for Mt. de Sales High School. In God's wisdom He knew that, from 1979 to 1984, de Sales would need students who possessed in abundance the qualities of flexibility, cooperation, and the ability to accept a multiplicity of changes.

Do you remember? ...

That your first yearbook was the silver edition?

That 12 of the present faculty were here when you arrived in 1979? Can you name them?

That your teachers changed throughout the years as follows:

English - 7 (two in your freshman year); Math - 6;
Religion - 7 (hints: a seminarian, and a long-time friend of MDS);
Social Studies - 4;
Girl's P.E. - 3;
French - 2; Spanish - 2;
Science - 5 (for some of you);
Typing - 1;
Study - 3;
Guidance - 2;
Assistant Principal/Financial Manager - 2;

Only Boys' P.E., Library, and Administration did not change while you were students here.

Do you remember your class officers? Here is your pattern:

8th Grade	2 boys, 2 girls
9th Grade	3 boys, 1 girl
10th Grade	2 boys, 2 girls
11th Grade	4 boys
12th Grade	2 boys, 2 girls

Remember, that the Sisters of Mercy celebrated their sesquicentennial during your sophomore year, an occasion memorialized in the Heritage Room ... That food service changed from seated to counter-height, to seated-counter-height; from machines to hot food, and back to machines ... That we changed from GHSA (strongest competitors - the Purple Hurricanes and the Bulldogs) to SEAIS (with natural rivals - the Eagles and the Vikings). That change inspired increasing numbers to join competition, this time literary. Debate came and went and will return; we began competing in softball and track, and trophies multiplied  $7 \times 70$  times.

Do you remember the academic changes which occurred during your years here? Honors courses were added in each discipline; course selections were increased significantly with additional options for juniors and seniors as we created our enriched curriculum. In the process, class periods changed from 6 to 7 to 6; serendipity and computers joined us.

Remember the changes in off-campus styles - from preppy to peasant, tuxedo to new wave.

And remember ... pep rallies in the gym from one side to two, and back to one ... study halls from classrooms to cafeteria ... Xerox and Scantron ... ice machines and weights in Cavalier Hall ... student admissions officers in the library ... expanded days ... a new piano ... your first Mass, your first report card, cross-stitching ... Activities-long to shorter ... Retirements - Sisters Barbara and Elizabeth, Father Bede ... Fortner to Rawlings to New Orleans ... Sister Coaches ... Coach Chester Pierce married a computer for a semester ... Coach Slocum became Varsity Basketball coach.

Remember the addition of 5th year Spanish, of two new seniors (Erin and Tim), and 5 National Merit Semi-Finalists - the most ever in our history!

Remember, too ... 8th grade soccer ... Two student trainers for our football team who went to Georgia Tech for a special training program (Alan Wacter was one) ... Homecoming Queen - Amy ... French Masses ... the transition of the Talent Show from 11th grade to 10th ... the initiation in your 8th grade year of the Development Program; it is now a lifeline for MDS.

Remember ... the physical changes that have taken place since your arrival in 1979 ... tennis court to Trapezoid ... five additional pieces of property purchased: the vacant lot next to McAuley Hall, and the two houses adjacent to it; Rose Place; the grey Victorian cottage near the gym ... football field churned under and sodded ... outside trim from turquoise blue to forest green ... furniture in color in the cafeteria ... patio/phone area between de Sales and St. Joseph Halls ... more benches, more lockers, more students ... re-lined parking lot ... new scoreboard in the gym - Coke is it!

Remember - no more bells ...

There is so much to remember; I wanted to assist you in your nostalgia. You are 106 strong in the 108th graduating class since the chartering of Mt. de Sales High School by the state of Georgia in 1876. And you have been 106 blessings to us at a time when we most needed you. Don't leave us when you claim that diploma. Keep MDS in your heart and prayers; come back to see us. And when you are wage earners, make us your favorite charity, so that we may continue to be to others what we hope we have been to you.

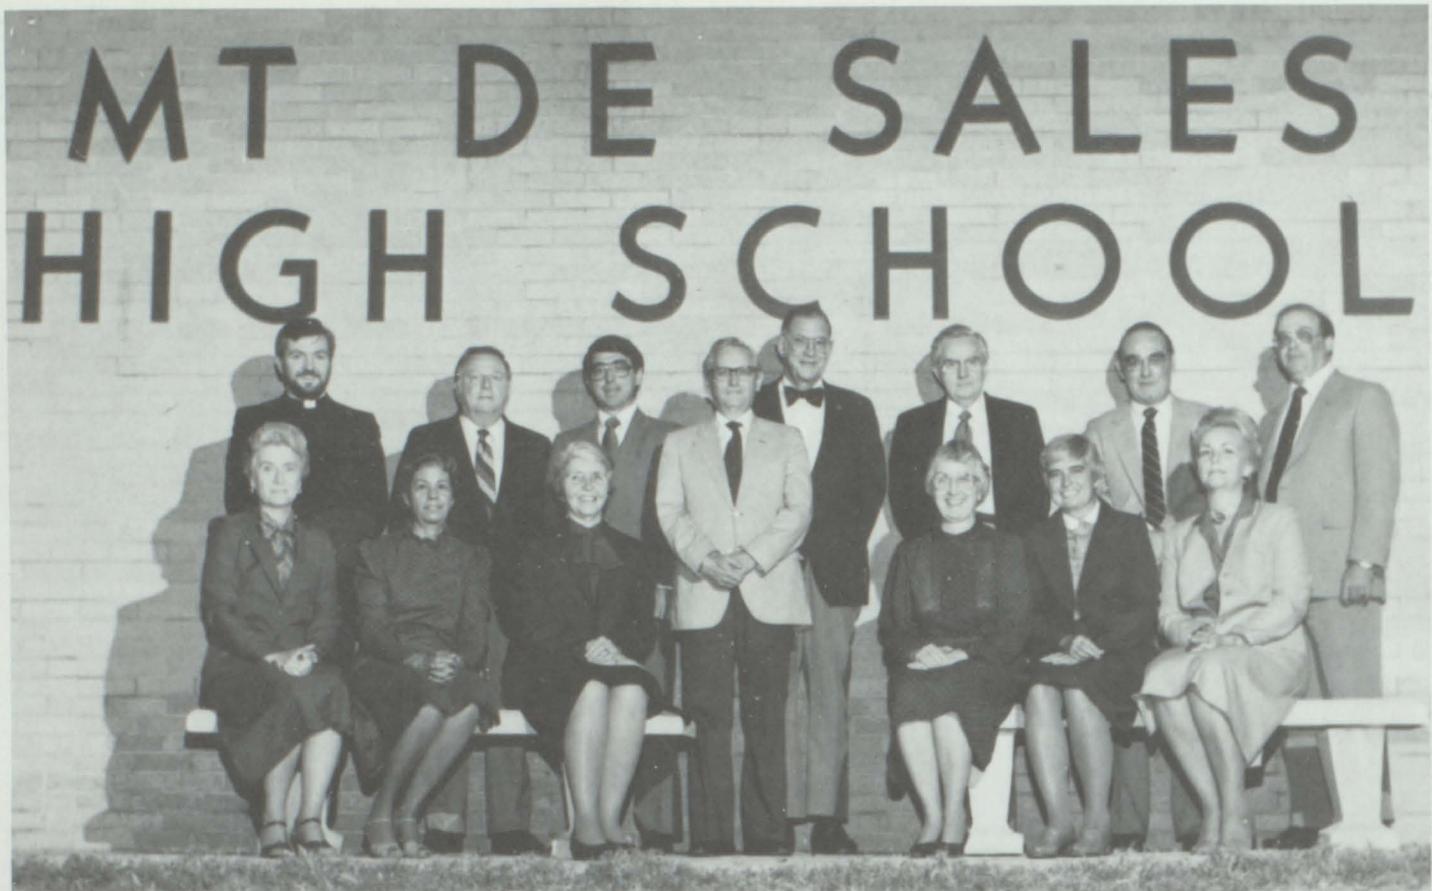

May God bless you and hold you in the palm of His hand!

Sincerely,

Sister Fidelis

Just as no two handprints are alike, so also are no two persons alike. Just as the hand leaves its imprint on all that it touches, so does the person we meet daily. Each person, like each hand, is different. Each person, like each hand, leaves a separate and distinct mark with every touch. No two persons can touch us in quite the same way.

Our faculty is a distinguished and diverse group. Some are introverted, others extraverted; some conservative; others more liberal. Their tastes in music are illustrative of their diversity. Some prefer the contemporary sounds of Pat Benatar's "Love is a Battlefield;" Others prefer the anthem-like sounds of the 70's like "Love is the Answer;" still others prefer the classics and religious hymns. Modes of transportation run the gamut from BMW to Chevrolet, with the occasional motorcycle or van thrown in for good measure.

By further observation, we can see that our teachers' tastes include more than cars and music. Theatrically speaking, our faculty's personal preferences range from the grimy and gritty personal struggles of Paul Newman as The Hustler, to the more noble and public struggles of Ben Kingsley as Ghandi. Their personal backgrounds are further illustrated by the colleges and universities at which they have studied, from the familiar Mercer University and the University of Georgia, to the more distant seats of learning: Fordham, Catholic University, and Notre Dame.

But for all these differences, there is a common thread that knits all these people together into a living and vibrant tapestry. For all of their distinctiveness, for all of their individual likes and dislikes, for all the specific tastes and diversions which they exhibit, there is a certain something which binds them each to the other, and brings them together, making them at times less the individuals and more the team; a special kind of team forged out of a common purpose and a common goal.

An entire life can be spent in the accumulation of knowledge for its own sake, but that knowledge, passed on to future generations, is the gift, the calling, and the common purpose of those who teach at Mount de Sales. And therein lies the tie that binds. The individualities that our teachers display can never outweigh the common determination and love they express by being here to help us learn. They, all different, all special, all unique, drink from the same cup, thus confirming their diversity of form in a brotherhood of soul.

- Don McGraw/Joel McMahon

Development

In 1979, the Mt. de Sales Board of Trustees realized that the changing circumstances of Catholic education required a new approach to financial management, one that would guarantee the financial security of this school as it enters its second century of service. Thus was born the Mt. de Sales Development Program.

At de Sales, Development is a program seeking understanding and support of this small school in the heart of Georgia which has served the people of the Macon area for over a hundred years. The creation of the Development Program also acknowledges a change in the philosophy of management at MDS. The program has created several ways in which the school can face its future confidently, continuing to offer the educational excellence which is its rich tradition, by identifying individuals and groups who wish to assist in this vital work.

In creating the Development Program, the Board of Trustees took notice of the following facts.

Fact: Private secondary schools, Catholic or independent, should aim at acquiring 25 to 33% of their revenue from non-tuition sources. At present, only about 10% of Mt. de Sales' income comes from non-tuition sources, and one-third of that 10% is the services of the Sisters of Mercy, which are donated.

Fact: Tuition at Mt. de Sales for the 1983-1984 school year is $1,140, but it actually costs $1,340 to educate each student.

Fact: According to the U. S. Statistical Abstracts, 1982-83, in 1980, the per-pupil expenditure in public elementary and secondary schools was $2,275 (national average). In Bibb County, the current per-pupil expenditure is $2,256.

Fact: Mt. de Sales is a private Catholic high school owned and operated by the Sisters of Mercy, Province of Baltimore. Although three Catholic parishes in the Macon area contribute scholarship funding for Catholic parishioners, Mt. de Sales receives no financial support or assistance from the Diocese of Savannah.

Fact: It is easier to get funding from outside sources (i. e., foundations, corporations, federal grant programs) for colleges and universities than it is for high schools.

Fact: The continuance of private education at the secondary level - both Catholic and independent - especially for other than the wealthy, depends upon the realization of the need of financial support from the private sector.

Fact: Since its beginning, Mt. de Sales has bridged the gap between tuition and overall costs by the contributed services of the Sisters of Mercy. In order to continue to bridge that gap, MDS needs contribution from alumni, friends, and foundations.

Fact: If every de Sales graduate of five years or more contributes $25, and if every younger alumna/alumni contributes $10, our school will face a secure future for the next hundred years.

The contributed services of the Sisters of Mercy throughout de Sales' first hundred years was, except for tuition, the school's greatest other source of financial support. In light of the decreasing numbers of Sisters, the Board of Trustees created a two-phase plan for developing a solid financial foundation.

1. Special Gifts Campaign: During the school year 1979-1980, we initiated a small-scale campaign whose purpose was to lay a foundation for the total program. In the past four years, we contacted special friends of Mt. de Sales and corporations who assist secondary schools (these are few in number.) Special Gifts sought donations of $1,000 or more; this aspect of the Development Program has realized $68,798.00.

2. Annual Giving Campaign: This phase of our program is considered to be the lifeline to Mt. de Sales' future. It primarily seeks smaller gifts from a larger number of friends. This program was begun with our present parents and with our alumni, whom we consider to be the central groups of support; other friends have become aware of the program and have begun to participate. These friends include current and former faculty, alumni parents and their families, and other friends of the school.

An effective annual giving program does two things: First, it enables the school to hold tuition to a minimum, securing the quality of the programs offered, and second, it enables the school to conduct special programs and projects. It also allows us to invest money for special needs, such as increased financial aid, and the purchase of needed properties for campus expansion, so desperately needed to serve the needs of our student body; invested money also provides for the beautification of the campus and the properties we have already purchased, and the necessary work to make these purchased properties useable.

This aspect of the Development Program has realized $46,223.76.

Thus, the total amount of money raised since the Development Program began five years ago is $115,021.76.

We have made a strong and vigorous beginning toward securing our future, but we still have a long way to go. If you are moved to support our future, remember:

1. Gifts may be made as pledges, spreading your contributions over several years;
2. Gifts may be made in cash or securities;
3. Contributions may be specified in your will;
4. All contributions to Mt. de Sales High School are tax deductible.

There is no alternative path to the future; a broad base of support is essential. Mt. de Sales is an important resource in this community; Mt. de Sales is an important part of this community; Mt. de Sales alumni are critical to the success of this community.

Mt. de Sales merits support.

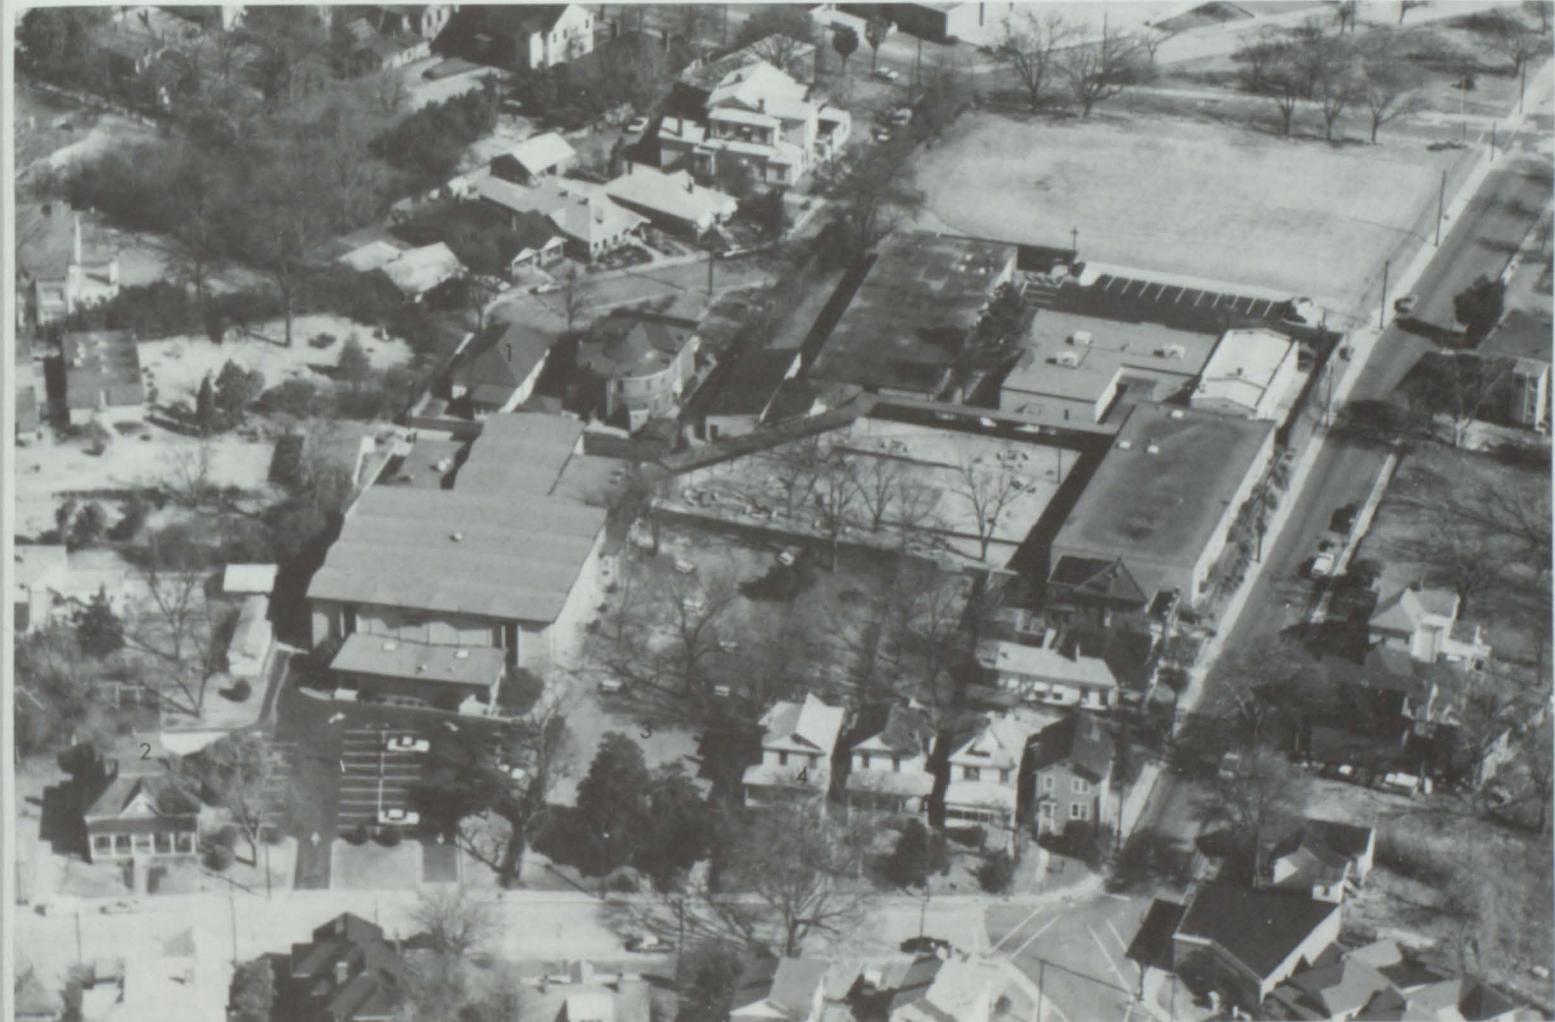

In 1978, the accrediting committee of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools (from which Mt. de Sales receives its accreditation) completed its 10-year evaluation of MDS. Its major recommendation concerned the size of the campus. At the time, the MDS campus was judged to be only 50% large enough to accommodate the student body and faculty. Therefore, the SACS strongly urged MDS to begin immediate property acquisitions, and to provide those properties for student use and long-term development. This recommendation was repeated by the interim review committee in 1983.

These two aerial photos present different views of the MDS campus. In the top photo, the numerals indicate the campus buildings at the time of the 1978 survey:

- 1) St. Joseph's Hall (constructed in 1960);
- 2) Cavalier Hall (1890, remodeled in 1973);
- 3) De Sales Hall (1973);
- 4) Mercy Hall (1955);
- 5) Burke Hall (1977);
- 6) McAuley Hall (1964).

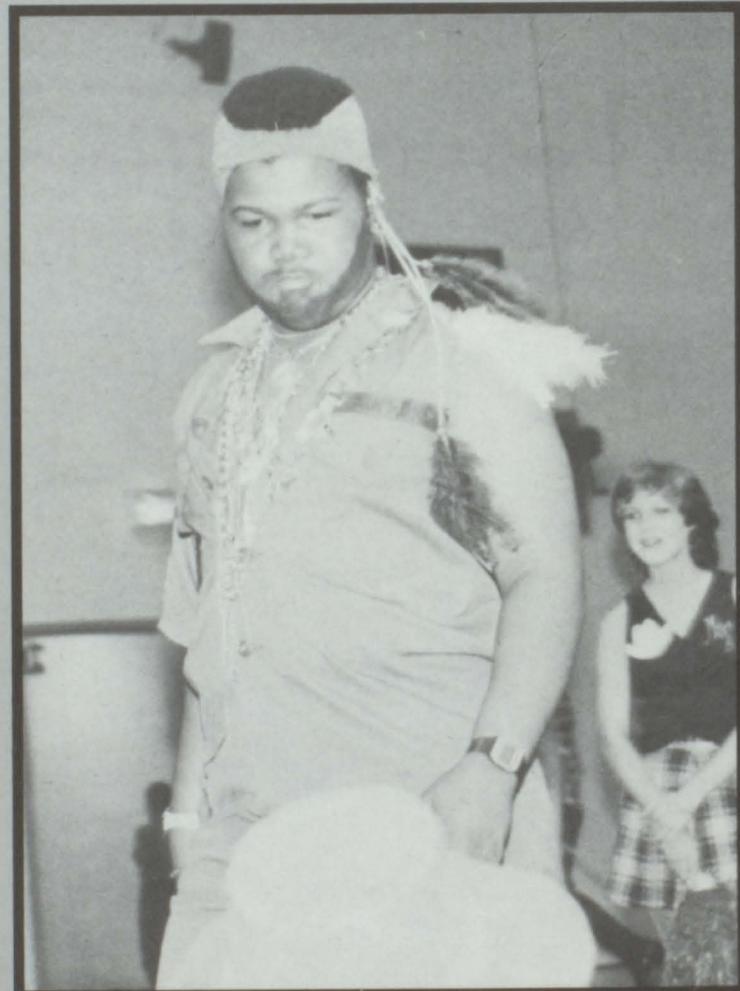

The bottom photo shows the properties that have been purchased in the five years since the establishment of the Mt. de Sales Development Program:

- 1) 1073 Rose Place was purchased in September, 1980, and is currently being used for classroom space. Rose Place also has office and storage space.
- 2) 1179 Appleton Avenue, the grey Victorian cottage adjacent to the student parking lot; purchased in October, 1983.
- 3) 1143 Appleton Avenue, the vacant lot next to McAuley Hall. This lot, which was furnished with benches and tables for student use during the summer of 1983, was purchased in June, 1981.
- 4) 1133 Appleton Avenue, purchased in September, 1983.
- 5) 1125 Appleton Avenue, purchased in October, 1979. This was the first piece of property acquired after the Development Program was started.

"Trapezoid Food and Spirits" was the setting, as the MDS Student Council kicked off the 1983 Homecoming campaign: "Homecoming on the Range."

During the skit, the candidates were introduced to the student body, and activities for the week were explained. We were all enthralled at the names given to our Queen candidates: Calamity Jane, Sagebrush Sal, Texas Tess, Diamond Lil, and Cactus Carol!

On Friday night, during halftime of the Cavaliers' romp over the John Milledge Trojans, Amy Shiflett was crowned as Mt. de Sales Homecoming Queen for 1983.

After the game was over, we returned to McAuley Hall for the Homecoming dance, featuring "Wrecking Crew."

Our thanks go to Student Council for a super week; to Student Council President Donald King; to Mr. McLachlan for coordinating the whole week's activities; to our teachers for patience and more patience, and to each other for a great good time!

"You want it? I GOT IT!!!!"

Nan Powell and Paige Anderson lead the student body in cheers during the annual bonfire celebration. Thank goodness the Fire Department was on hand - not to put the fire out, but to start it in the first place!

There is a special feeling shared by those who have worked on a long project together, and this year, 30 seniors shared that experience.

Beginning in late August with organizational details for the annual Publications Drive, and continuing into early February, we met deadlines, wrote captions, cropped photographs, corrected galley proofs, and concerned ourselves with the myriad little details, which, properly attended to, make a successful yearbook.

This is the end result of our efforts. We hope you enjoy it.

The Murder of Lidice

The MDS Players chose a most ambitious play for 1983 Region Drama Competition, The Murder of Lidice, Edna St. Vincent Millay's deeply moving narrative poem commemorating the liquidation of the tiny Czech village of Lidice by the Nazis during World War II. Against the bittersweet counterpoint of Erin Coughlin's violin, the cast portrayed the final moments of a village doomed to death, each person living their last moments: a mother grieving for her unborn child; a young boy wondering why his life must end so soon; an elderly couple in despair as their home and the home of their ancestors is wiped away.

Under the skillful direction of Mr. Jim Ray and Mrs. Charlotte Mason, the MDS Players captured the Region Championship in Drama for the first time, and finished third among all SEAIS schools in Georgia.

Bravo!

Student Council

Being President of Student Council for 1983-84 has certainly been an enjoyable experience. It was very demanding, and occasionally frustrating, but always rewarding.

Most people only see the finished products of Student Council's functions. To some it may seem as if Homecoming Week appears by magic. Nothing could be further from the truth. A lot of people give a lot of their time to make our functions work.

Student Council is more than just the officers, though they are the most visible; class officers and class representatives deserve a lot of the credit, too. Their efforts may not always get noticed, but they don't go unappreciated, either.

Finally, a great deal of the credit must go to Mr. Ron McLachlan, whose leadership and overall concern make everything possible for Student Council, and thus, for the student body. Besides being a great moderator, he is very good at painting and finding rocks!

We have enjoyed serving the student body this year; we hope that the student body has enjoyed the year as much as we.

It was the year of the Cavalier.

Our 1983-84 Varsity Boys stormed through the regular season with a record of 20-3, and avenged those three losses by beating each of those teams later in the season (Southland, Stratford, and Westfield). During the Christmas holidays, the Cavs won the Gold Division of the Savannah Holiday Classic with three consecutive wins. In February, our boys captured another region championship, only to have the season end on a bittersweet note: a one-point overtime loss to eventual state champion Calvary Baptist.

For the months of January and February, it was a team without a home. The damage to the gym floor after a pipe burst in McAuley Hall forced the Cavaliers to play all of their games away from home. It had no obvious effect, though, as the Cavs just kept on winning.

This year's team played inspired basketball: a tough man-to-man defense, and an electrifying fast break. With six starters each over six feet tall, it was high-wire act played above the rim. The Cavaliers rebounded, blocked shots, and forced mistakes. It was great fun to watch.

There were many post-season honors. Terry Askew, Patrick Nuttall, and Chris Slocum were named to the All-Region Team; Terry and Chris were chosen for All-State honors, and Terry was invited to play in the All-Stars game in early March.

For the third consecutive year, Coach Robert Slocum was named Coach of the Year for Region 3-AAA.

It was a very good year indeed.

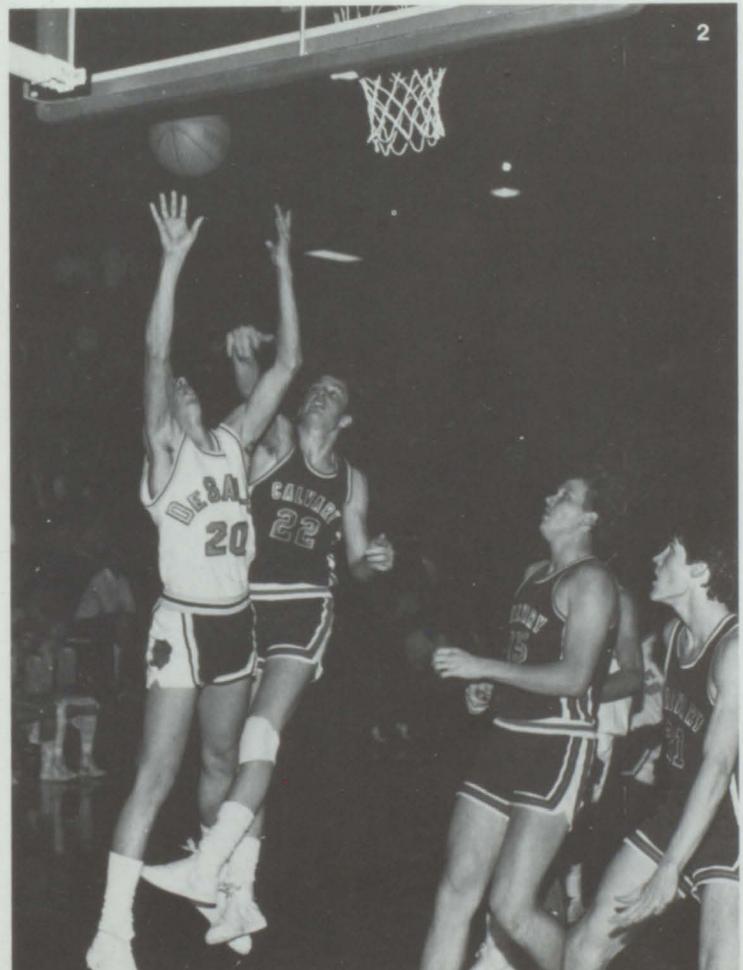

1 Wayne Anderson's brand of blue-collar basketball pays off with this layup against John Milledge; Matt Donner (15) follows in perfect position for a possible rebound. No rebound on this play; Wayne (40) nailed the shot in the Cavaliers' runaway win over the Trojans.

2 Todd Brown's baseline drive resulted in a three-point play against Calvary Baptist. After taking a pass from Patrick Nuttal, Todd (20) sank this short jump shot, and then converted the free throw as the Cavaliers built an early lead.

3 Aggressive defense is the mark of any championship team. Gene Gordon (44) swats this pass away and forces another turnover.

1 Terry Askew, the Cavaliers' quicksilver point guard, splits three Calvary defenders for an easy layup. Nimble and surehanded, Terry's skills and leadership qualities earned him All-Region, All-State and All-Star honors in 1983-84.

2 Chris Slocum leaves two John Milledge defenders behind as he drives for a basket in an early season game. Chris led the Cavaliers in scoring, and earned All-Region and All-State honors for the second year in a row.

3 There was no rebound on this play, as Patrick Nuttall banks in a two-pointer from under the basket. Patrick started at center for the Cavaliers, and was named to the All-Region 3-AAA team.

Girls' Basketball

The 1983-84 Lady Cavaliers had a season of promise, with flashes of brilliance. Our girls compiled a record of 10-13, which was an improvement over the previous season, and the total of 10 wins included two victories over Stratford, the second coming in a tense, well-played match in Stratford's gym on the final night of the regular season. Sherry Williams tied the game in the final minute when she calmly hit a 10-foot jumper, and Kim Smaha iced the win with 6 consecutive free throws down the stretch.

Under the coaching of Sr. Pat Coward, the girls showed steady and obvious improvement throughout the year, and the creation of an 8th-grade team and skills instruction in P. E. classes makes the future of MDS girls' basketball very bright.

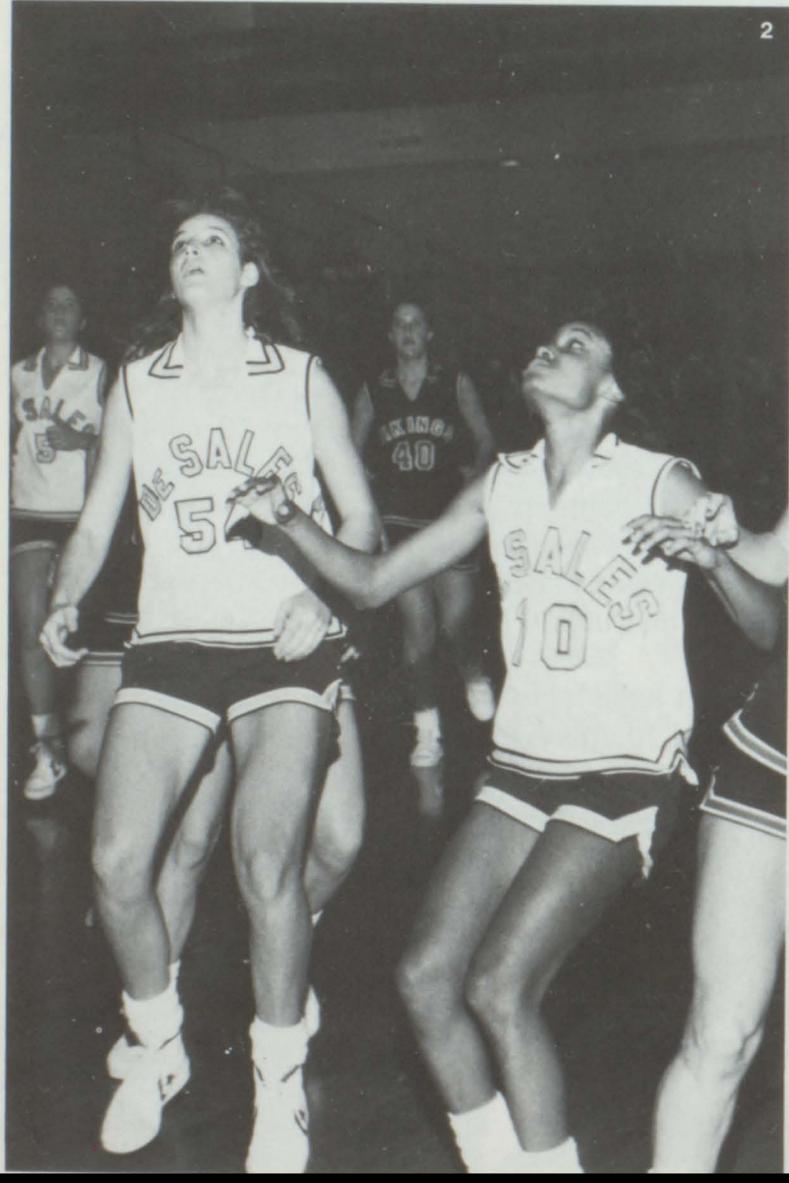

Sophomore co-captain Sherry Williams led the team in assists, while senior co-captain Kim Smaha led the team in scoring and rebounding. Kim was named to the All-Region team, and played in the Senior All-Star game in Perry in early March. This completed an impressive double for Kim, as she was chosen for the All-Region and All-State teams in softball during the fall season.

1 Chanda Fowler controls the rebound and looks to throw the outlet pass against the Lady Vikings.

2 Kris Porter (54) and Sonya Williams (10) seal off the middle and established inside position in anticipation of a rebound.

The 1983 Cavalier Baseball team captured another Region Championship, winning 5 Region games while losing only once. Outside the Region, the Cavs were 10 and 4, and advanced to the State Championship Tournament, where they lost their opening game to FPD.

The season was marked by some fine individual performances: Todd Brown pitched a no-hitter and a near-perfect game against Tatnall Square; Greg Ballard ignited the winning rally against Brentwood by smacking a 2-run homer; and Gene Gordon's 2-hit, 5 strikeout complete game victory over First Presbyterian.

Six Cavaliers were selected for the All-Region 3-AAA Team, more than any other school in the Region: Greg Ballard, Billy Brown, '83, Gene Gordon, Marc Lipson, John Paul Wade, '83, and Charles Mitchell, '83, who was also chosen for the All-State team.

Bryant Stokes came on in the 7th inning to save a 4-3 B-Team victory over Stratford.

Chris Kinnas sneaks down the baseline in one of the B-Team's two wins over Stratford.

Chester Pierce was chosen by his peers as Coach of the Year in Region 3-AAA.

All changes, even the most longed for, have their melancholy; for what we leave behind is part of ourselves. We must leave one life before we can enter another.

- Andre Gide

the last word

Changes. They are the stuff of which life is made. Without change, life would be static, predictable, and entirely too dull. Sometimes, though, the changes come so hard and fast that we as people are overwhelmed. The author Alvin Toffler once described this phenomenon as "Future Shock"; that is, our inability to cope with the sudden and wrenching change that so characterizes twentieth-century American life.

Consider some of the changes that have occurred since you came to Mount de Sales:

When you first arrived, Jimmy Carter was in the White House; now he lives again in Plains, an almost forgotten President. In your freshman year, 52 Americans continued their suffering as prisoners in Iran; they finally came home after more than a year. In your freshman and sophomore years, the American economy very nearly collapsed; as you graduate it is healthy again, though we are all more aware of its fragile nature.

In a different vein, consider the changes that have taken place closer to home. In 1979, the Georgia Bulldogs finished their football season with a record of 6 wins and 5 losses; In the next four years, they lost only four times, while winning 11 times that many games. In 1979, Herschel Walker was a high school football star in Johnson County; in his senior year, his team had to defeat the Mt. de Sales Cavaliers on their way to the State Championship. Today Herschel Walker is a millionaire who plays football in New Jersey in the springtime. When you began yours years at MDS, the Atlanta Braves were a last-place team; since then they have become champions.

Lifestyles have changed; so has entertainment. New Wave music was in its infancy in your early years here. Today it is a dominant form of popular entertainment. And who among you had heard of MTV, or seen rock videos in 1979? Today they are commonplace, as are home computers, which have opened your lives to unlimited possibilities. Bill Murray made you laugh in Stripes; Debra Winger made you weep in Terms of Endearment.

In your studies, you have met the great thinkers and personalities, those who have shaped the course of history. Euclid and Descartes, Darwin and Newton, Walt Whitman and Shakespeare, JFK and FDR, Julius Caesar and Napoleon, St. Thomas Aquinas and Jesus Christ himself.

And through it all, you have changed. You have begun to discover who you are, and whose you are. You have learned to nurture the spirit of compassion and the practice of mercy. You have learned the value of a word of encouragement, a gesture of friendship, an act of kindness.

The future which you have awaited has, for you, arrived at last. It is your turn to be the instruments of change. We who have taught you and watched you grow hope that you take to your future the way you took to your high school years - with spirit, enthusiasm, dedication, and perserverance.

We ask God's blessings for you, and we thank Him that you have graced our lives in so many ways.

Go now and take your place, for the future isn't the future anymore.

The future is now.

Congratulations to our 108th Graduating Class
With prayers and best wishes from your devoted Faculty

Mercer Commuters Are A Driving Force! And Mercer Commuter Students are smart, too - in more ways than one. They save more than $900 each year over regular tuition when they qualify.* Plus they receive an additional state grant for another $700 yearly. Add these up, and you're talking about a 40% discount. And when they live at home and commute to school, they save room and board fees.

* Here's how you qualify:

1. Be a high school graduate from Bibb, Houston, Peach, Crawford, Monroe, Jones, or Twiggs Counties or
2. Be a graduate of Macon Junior College or
3. Be a student 30 years of age or older.

Think about it.

The major renovations of the MDS campus completed during the summer of 1983 required a builder with skill, experience, and integrity. The Mt. de Sales Board of Trustees enthusiastically chose Chris R. Sheridan & Co.

If you need the kind of quality work performed by a builder who has been entrusted with the renovation and maintenance of Macon's most important historical landmarks, remember Chris R. Sheridan & Co.

Throw it a curve.

There's no better place to show off a new Prelude than on a winding road. It hugs the pavement. It handles curves with finesse.

The Prelude's performance is the result of some impressive Honda engineering.

A unique double wishbone front suspension supports the car. Rear independent MacPherson struts give excellent handling and stability. Performance is improved by a new, more efficient engine with dual carburetors.

So take a Prelude out for a road test. And fasten your seat belts.
